ROYALTIES FOR REGIONS

INVESTING IN A BRIGHTER FUTURE
2014-15 TO 2017-18

Royalties for Regions is the State Government's multi-billion dollar program to help grow Western Australia's regional areas into thriving and sustainable communities.

The Department of Regional Development is a vibrant agency with a clear agenda: to develop thriving towns and communities in regional Western Australia.

As lead agency of the State Government's Royalties for Regions program, the department is uniquely placed to make this happen.

The best part is local people are having a big say in determining the priorities for funding. There is also a strong flow on effect with growing economic, social and cultural activity in the regions.

Find out more about how regional Western Australia is growing and changing today.

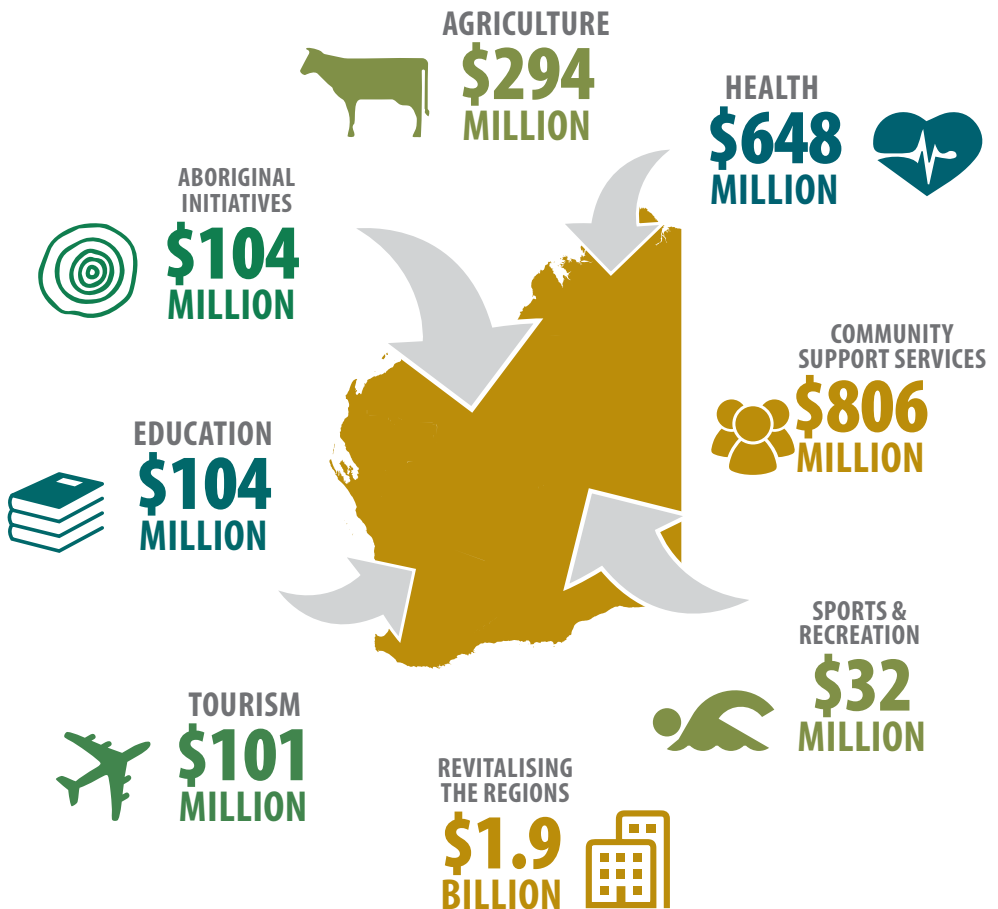

What does it mean for me?

The support that Royalties for Regions gives to regional WA means more people can visit, stay, invest, work and play in our regional communities in a sustainable way.

INVESTING IN A BRIGHTER FUTURE

Seizing the Opportunity Agriculture

$294 million

Royalties for Regions is creating new opportunities and diversifying regional economies for the future through:

- Industry research and development and biosecurity defence.
- Agrifood business strategies for the sheep and beef industries.
- Investment attraction and trade, through WA Open for Business and increasing the profile of WA agriculture.
- Land and water investigation, including State-wide 'Water for Food' initiative.
- Food Industry initiatives, including food centres and Buy West, Eat Best.

Health

$648 million

Royalties for Regions has continued its commitment to quality health services for all families through the provision of additional funding towards services and programs such as:

- Regional Hospital and Health Campus upgrades
- More doctors and specialists
- Telehealth
